Enemy Moving Up Armored Forces Thirty Miles South of Tunis

PROTECT VITAL LINES

By the Associated Press

Overshadowed by the vast Russian offensive, the campaign in North Africa was still marked by an uneasy lull, amid signs that the hour of showdown was approaching.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Tunisia said that with the cessation of rain on the southern sector of the Tunis-Bizerte zone, the Germans were moving up armored forces below Pont-Du-Fahs, 30 miles south of Tunis.

The German strategy here was evidently aimed at preventing French and American troops from knifing through to the Gulf of Gabes coast and thus cutting off the vital line of Axis communications between Tunisia and Tripolitania.

Reuters said French troops around Pont-Du-Fahs—described in other dispatches as ill-equipped with armor—had fallen back and established new lines on higher ground where the Nazi mechanized forces could not operate.

An Italian communiqué said the Allies had been forced to yield several positions.

On the Libyan flank, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters reported that vanguards of the British 8th Army continued "in contact" with Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps west of Wadi El Chebir, 180 miles east of Tripoli, while RAF fighters shot down eight Nazi Messerschmitts over the battlefield.

At the year's last hours ran out in Europe and the United States. American troops in the Buna area of New Guinea were already fighting in 1943, and it appeared that here, too, the last hours of Japanese resistance were running out.

New York's Political Upheaval is Under Way

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 31.—(P)—The greatest upheaval in modern New York state politics is climaxed today with Thomas E. Dewey taking a preliminary oath as governor and, at midnight, initiating the first Republican administration in 20 years.

Attaining the governorship at 40 after an impressive career as New York county district attorney, Dewey will be sworn in privately at the executive mansion (4 p. m., Eastern War Time) by Supreme Court Justice Phillip McCook of Manhattan.

Witnesses of the brief ceremony, required so that the state will not be without a chief executive when Democratic Governor Charles Poletti retires tonight, will include the immediate families of both the governor-elect and Mrs. Dewey.

The new governor, a native of Owosso, Mich., takes the oath of office publicly in the capitol assembly chamber at noon tomorrow in traditional inauguration ceremonies trimmed somewhat to expense and discourage unnecessary use of transportation facilities.

Alabama Man Wins Title of Being Champ Liar For 1942

Burlington, Wis., Dec. 31.—(P)—A squirrel tale has won for U. U. Kemp of Gadsden, Ala., the title of world champion liar for 1942.

Honors in the Burlington Liars' Club's annual contest, announced today, went to Kemp for this bit of improbability:

"This all happened one bad, cloudy day in November, when I was living on Sand Mountain, in Alabama. About 2 o'clock, it came up one of the worst cyclones I had ever seen."

"I was standing in the window, watching trees and buildings sail over the house, when I noticed a tree going over with a squirrel in it. Calling Madge, my wife, to bring me my old rifle, I went out in the yard, and in the next 30 minutes I shot 10 squirrels out of trees that went sailing over."

"I could easily have killed more, but 10 squirrels a day is the limit in Alabama."

Kemp received the club's beautiful "gold, diamond-studded" lyre medal.

O. C. Hulett, club president, reported that nearly 6,000 contest entries were submitted. Probably because many men are in service, the crop was smaller than in recent years, but the quality was up to par.

"The last train carrying passengers over the line included a locomotive.

Traditional Gayety Planned In Times Square Despite War

New York, Dec. 31.—(P)—Times Square won't be lit up tonight, but on the other hand, there are the people.

The dimout will engulf thousands who will jam this mecca of fun to howl hello to 1943—as on past New Year's eves—but it won't dim the traditional gayety.

Although the Times Square throngs were expected to be smaller than in past years, because of war-time conditions, there was no doubt that they would have more money to spend.

Heads of night clubs, hotels, restaurants and theaters predicted they would be filled to capacity. Some said all available space had been reserved. Department of housing and buildings inspectors will be assigned to prevent overcrowding.

An abrupt let-down will come at 4 a. m. (EWT) when bartenders must "cease firing"—on official orders.

The patriotic motif will be part of the pattern. At midnight, Times Square revelers will be asked to sing the National Anthem with Lucy Monroe; five minutes later, across New York bay, the torch of the Statue of Liberty will flash a "V-for-Victory" signal.

At dawn Friday, the Rainbow Room, famed Rockefeller Center night club 65 floors up, will close for the war's duration.

Washington, Dec. 31.—(P)—Hunger among the civilians of North Africa threatens to hamper military operations and there may be "serious disturbances" unless substantial shipments of food and clothing are landed there by Feb. 1.

That was the word brought back by Milton S. Eisenhower, associate director of the Office of War Information and brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who returned Sunday from a two-week visit in North Africa.

His account, as related at a press conference:

Poverty and hunger are such that serious trouble, "which I think might seriously hamper the military operations," can be expected in the civilian population—unless there is American aid.

"You see people who are naked, who are dressed only in a dirty linon cloth. They look hungry, and I understand this situation has prevailed for a long time."

Some lend-lease shipments have arrived, but the flow must increase.

It is impossible to buy anything, even trinkets, with stores closed and boarded up.

Eisenhower reported his brother in "grand health."

He said that all French political prisoners, as far as he knew, had been released from jail in North Africa.

Eisenhower said improvement could be expected within a week in the transmission of news from North Africa.

Ross' action marked another in a continuing dispute with Dr. Edward B. Logan, Republican secretary of revenue, over authority of the two officials.

The auditor general notified Logan yesterday he was withholding the checks of all revenue department employees paid from general funds until he received certain information demanded of the revenue secretary. Revenue employees paid from the motor fund were not involved in the dispute.

Logan referred the situation to René—winding up his duties as attorney general preparatory to taking the oath of office later in the day as judge of the state superior court—and Reno said the Dauphin county court would be asked to issue a writ of mandamus against Ross if the latter persists in holding up the payroll.

The information sought by Ross, it was explained by John F. Breslin, his executive assistant, concerns revenue employees working outside the main Harrisburg office. Ross wants a list giving their names, showing their duties and territories covered.

Agreeing with Taft, Republican Leader McNary of Oregon said he thought there was no doubt that congress would exhibit a tough attitude toward extravagance anywhere it might be found and Senator Thomas (D-Oklahoma) said as a member of the appropriations committee he would not vote for any more blanket authorizations or appropriations.

"If the agencies don't know what they want the money for, they can wait until they find out," he declared.

President Roosevelt told his press conference Tuesday that it was hard to determine where war expenditures left off and non-war expenditures began. For that reason, he said, the legislators would have to decide which functions of government should be maintained.

While Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Tydings (D-Md) predicted Congress would accept Mr. Roosevelt's "challenge" to trim ordinary government expenditures, Taft said he thought the time had arrived to go much further by shaking down some of the war agencies to see if economies could be made in that field.

Both the Senate and House Appropriations Committees are to meet Jan. 11 to consider the budget.

Early Map of Pennsylvania In Bank Window Interesting

An interesting early map of Pennsylvania is shown in the lobby of the Warren National Bank this week. This is a copy of a map of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania made by Reading Howell in the year 1792 and inscribed to Thomas Mifflin, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth.

This early map shows that what is now Warren County was then a part of Allegheny county and the Indian name of "Koshannadeo".

The inscription of the map's author describes the many settled localities in the eastern and southeastern part of the commonwealth and in the more unsettled territory indicates the Indian villages and a few markings.

The map is loaned by Enoch Lundquist, the owner, and will undoubtedly be viewed by many people interested in such maps while it is shown in the bank.

Gifts Galore
For First Babe
Born In 1943

Some girl or boy with three cornered pants will have a shower of good gifts from the merchants of the city for being the first to be born in the New Year. And who will it be? That is all up to the doctors of the community who form the reception committee for the newly born. The merchants have done their best to provide a fine welcome for the little mite and some handsome gifts await the fortunate kiddie.

The baby must be the son or daughter of a Papa and Mama residing in Warren or North Warren and it must be born after the clocks chime out the old and in the new year.

It is asked that all physicians who are attendants at a birth make the report as soon as possible. Special care should be given to the babies born at the homes of their parents as many are inclined to feel that only the babies born at the Hospital are eligible. Nothing could be farther from the truth than this.

So little Master 1943 or Little Miss 1943 it's up to you. Better hurry and arrive just a minute after midnight? Welcome.

Among the gifts that the first baby will receive are the following:

Metzger-Wright Company baby blanket.

S. S. Kresge Company $3 in merchandise.

Brown's Boot Shop Pair of Cozy foot baby shoes.

Bomquist's Furniture store bathinette.

Stokes Studio six 4x6 photos in folders.

J. C. Penney Company two dozen diapers.

Darling Jewelry Store cup, spoon, fork and napkin ring.

Warren County Dairy $2 worth of milk tickets.

Mullen Drug Company — $2 worth of merchandise.

Fort Jefferson National Monument, in Florida, was visited by 1141 persons during 1940.

Since the beginning of 1942 the number of automobile mechanics has been reduced by 50 per cent.

Balata, formerly used in golf balls, is now used in making self-sealing fuel tanks for airplanes.

TIMES TOPICS

PLAN ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Veterans Club will be held on the third floor of the VFW building Thursday January 7, 1943 at 10:30 p.m.

LEAVING FOR CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ledebur, 5 Water street, have just had word from their son, Bernard, in Toledo, O., that he will leave Monday, January 4, for camp, destination not disclosed.

COMMUNION SERVICE

Rev. E. P. Wroth, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, announces a celebration of Holy Communion in his church at ten o'clock New Year's Day, this service replacing the customary Thursday morning communion service.

WATER CAUSED ALARM

Back pressure from rising waters in the sewers caused the Emergency truck from the Central Fire Station to be called to the home of Mrs. R. G. Dawson, 118 East street yesterday afternoon. Sewer water was being forced into the basement.

SHUT OFF GAS

Firemen from the Central station were called at 4:19 this morning to a house on St. Clair street used by nurses of the Warren Hospital to shut off the gas under the furnaces and hot water tank. Water was seeping into the basement.

WENT TO ERIE

A large group of Warren county young men left this morning for Erie where they will take the examinations for induction into the U. S. Army. They will return this evening and those that have passed and been inducted will enjoy a seven day furlough before leaving for a reception center to be equipped and outfitted for service with some unit of the army.

CLUB TO CLOSE

Announcement has been made that the Marconi Outing Club will be closed after Sunday night for the duration of the war. Rationing of gasoline has caused a decline in the attendance at the club and it has been decided to close. The officers of the club met last evening to discuss plans for the future and it may be that some arrangement will be made for the conduct of the night club features at some point down town.

CREDIT CARDS GO

The petroleum administration for war announced today that, effective Jan. 1, gasoline companies will be forbidden to issue to motorists or use credit, courtesy, or identification cards unless the cards are limited to a single station. Most of the larger companies have been issuing credit cards good at any of their stations. Petroleum Administrator Ickes said revocation of general was designed to reduce bookkeeping and personnel costs of the marketers. The ban will not go into effect until Feb. 1 for commercial vehicles, in order to give owners time to arrange for buying gasoline on some other basis.

CROSSING HEARING HELD

Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. a hearing was held on the petition of the New York Central railroad to abandon the crossing over its tracks at Main street, North Warren. R. Bridges, representing the PUC was in attendance and the New York Central was represented by an attorney from New York City. Nineteen residents of the vicinity including the Board of County Commissioners, Coneango township supervisors, a representative of the West Penn Oil Company and the North Warren Fire Department all entered protests against closing the crossing. Due to the inclement weather the hearing was held in the North Warren station of the railroad. An opinion in the matter will be given later. Two other hearings were held here yesterday. Both were from Elk county.

HOLD UP MAIL

The Army asks families and friends of newly inducted soldiers not to forward mail to them at New Cumberland reception center. The average soldier pauses at the reception center only long enough to be processed, classified and assigned" explained Lt. Col. William A. Fullmer, post commander. "That requires a very short time and then the soldier leaves for his permanent camp in training. Consequently by the time the letter or package reaches him the soldier in most cases has departed for another post. Mail arriving under such circumstances will be delayed in reaching him. To be certain that mail reaches the new soldier it should be held by the sender until the soldiers address at a permanent camp is known. No mail should be addressed to the reception center unless the soldier for whom it is intended is to be retained indefinitely".

ANOTHER YEAR

(A New Year's editorial written for NEA and Times-Mirror by S. Burton Heath.)

The year now beginning should be a Happy New Year. It will bring grief to many, hardships to more, irritations to all. But unless all signs fail it will lead the peace-loving people of the world within sight of an end to the inferno into which a few sadistic egomaniacs have plunged us.

During this year we shall have to sacrifice everything from money to lives on a scale never before conceived. We shall not, however, make those sacrifices as we did the lesser ones of 1942—wondering in spite of ourselves whether they might just possibly prove to be in vain.

We can visualize in a general way the road that leads back to peace. Our enemies are on the defensive. They can stand us off for a long time perhaps, but no war ever was won by a defensive that was more than temporary, and the almost infinitesimal advantage that we now possess is certain to grow, so that on the grand scale we shall retain the offensive from now on.

Our industry has struck its stride. We aren't yet satisfied. We must never be satisfied until we have won. Yet both in quantity and in quality we far surpass our enemies that they have no chance.

We have stopped the unsatisfactory copying of others' weapons and tactics. We are proving the superiority of American technical methods by evolving our own weapons, which are proving as devastating to the Germans as their blitzkrieg weapons once did to the democracies of Europe.

The Japs are relatively safe, for a short time. The war is yet far from their home shores. That, also, is temporary. Before the year-end Nippon also will feel the weight of our wrath.

Said Undersecretary of War Patterson recently:

"This much can be said with assurance. The year 1943 will be a fighting year for American troops. We will be fighting in Europe and Asia and Africa and on the seven seas."

"We will seek out the enemy wherever we can find him—not on one front or on two front, but on any front where Nazis and Japanese can be engaged in combat."

That is the vital and encouraging difference between 1943 and the year now past.

In 1943 we shall seek out our enemies, wherever they are, and strike them with mighty concentrations of deadly weapons, instead of sitting back as we were forced to do so much during 1942 and wondering whether or where the enemy would strike us before we could become strong enough to stop him.

"The year 1943 will be a tough year," said Mr. Patterson. "It will likely be a year of heavy casualties. It takes loss of life and loss of blood to attack, to press the war home to the enemy, to win momentous battles."

Indeed it does. But it is far easier to face death, for one's self or his loved ones when death is contributing directly to progress than when—as on Bataan, in the East Indies and elsewhere during 1942—the utmost possible was to slow down a victorious enemy's advance.

Yes, with all its sorrows and its heartbreaks 1943 should be a Happy New Year for everybody who believes in human freedom, a year that should get happier and happier as it goes on.

INTRODUCING THE GREMLINS

Those fantastic and much-written-about mischief makers of World War II, the Gremlins, are coming to the Times-Mirror beginning Monday.

The Gremlins are drawn by Dorman H. Smith, one of America's most distinguished editorial cartoonists, whose pleasing style is ideally suited to a feature of this nature. We believe The Gremlins will perform a very important function, not only from the standpoint of furnishing amusement for subscribers (including those important readers, the children) but from the standpoint of promoting co-operation with the war aim.

Slackerism, hoarding, selfishness—these things will be emphatically discouraged in The Gremlins.

As a respite from the worries and fears occasioned by the war news, attendance at one of the New Year's Day Prayer Services to be held in Warren tomorrow may be recommended as offering desired consolation.

Temper your celebrating with remembrance that our men and women in the service are not having such a swell New Year's Eve!

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — With time to digest the effects of the appointment of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard as wartime food administrator, it is becoming increasingly apparent that Mr. Wickard is czar in name only.

Here's why: In order to be food "czar," Wickard has to settle, among other things, the primary matters of (1) Price ceilings; (2) Rationing of foodstuffs; (3) Farm labor; (4) Farm machinery; and (5) Transportation of farm products.

In the case of price ceilings, he is entirely dependent upon the price administrator and his overlord, Economic Stabilizer James F. Byrnes. There is also Congress. If Congress should decide in January to legislate farm prices or change the basis of farm price controls (parity), then Mr. Wickard would be further bound by that legislation.

As for rationing, here again Byrnes and the price administrator hold the whip hand. In the field of rationing, however, Mr. Wickard is not likely to have a great deal of trouble, because shortages force the issue. No one is going to hold out against rationing when those shortages become self-evident.

On farm labor, Mr. Wickard is entirely dependent upon orders and decisions of Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt. It is estimated that it will take 12,000,000 farm workers to grow and harvest next year's agricultural products. The supply will probably not be over 8,000,000, and many of these or any additional that can be found will be inexpensive.

For farm machinery, Mr. Wickard will have to look to the War Production Board and its priorities division. WPB limits the manufacturer of farm machinery to 20 per cent of the 1940-41 production. With Wickard demanding staggering production of necessary crops from the nation's farmers, he has to tell them that they will have to get the job done with 80 per cent less farm machinery than they were buying in pre-war days.

As for farm transportation, that's up to Defense Transportation Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman, Rubber Administrator William Jeffers and to some extent, Oil Coordinator Harold L. Ickes.

NOW, does it become apparent why Mr. Wickard is "czar" by name but mostly still just the hard-working Secretary of Agriculture?

There is one important difference—important only to that extent to which Mr. Wickard can get cooperation. Under his new orders as food administrator, he is wartime equal of all these men and, being a cabinet member, may be able to get a more sympathetic ear at the White House than most of them.

As a matter of fact President Roosevelt took cognizance of the plight of Mr. Wickard by issuing a special order that in any controversy between Wickard and other wartime "czars," Byrnes would act as the President's agent and have final say. Actually, that may strengthen the agriculture secretary's hand, but actually also it might make Byrnes the food czar, not Wickard.

Elaborate plans have been made for the DeMolay banquet to be held tomorrow evening. There will be a large attendance and many from out of town will be in attendance.

The largest Court of Honor of the whole year will be held in the Presbyterian church tonight. The Boy Scouts who appear before the court and pass the tests will advance in their work.

At today's meeting of the Kiwanis Club a feature of the meeting was the unanimous choice of S. M. McClure as president. It is an unprecedented thing for a man to be unanimously re-elected at the close of one term.

Word from Glendale, Cal., is that W. L. Hyde, former Warren man has been chosen as commander of the Knights Templar of that city.

CUBA has made a change in its postal tax stamp for child tuberculosis care. The design remains the same as the 1941 issue, showing a woman holding a child, but the color has been changed from olive to salmon, and there is a black overprint of 1942.

Stamp News

da Brasil" and the small Forme Cross. The watermark formerly was the imprint of "Correio Brasileiro" between multiple stars.

One such stamp is the vertical 30 cent air post issued by Cyrenaica in 1931, showing an Arab on a camel. Illustrated here, the stamp certainly is one of the most attractive ever issued. It has been turning up frequently in the mails because of the war in North Africa, the capital of Cyrenaica being Bengasi. Even though military mail may be sent free, the United States armed forces have many philatelists enrolled, and they seldom overlook a chance to send home a stamp which attracts their fancy.

This particular stamp, listed by Scott's, is in deep purple. It is used also by Libya, with a "Libia" overprint in black.

BRAZIL has changed the watermark of the remaining stamps in the old currency values, including the 20 reis, 50, 400, 600, 700 and 1200. The new watermark on the sheets is "Casa da Moeda

Gremlins Will Get You
If You Don't Watch Out!

Feeling punk? Things go wrong at home, in school, at the office? Maybe it's the Gremlins!

The Gremlins are the guys who throw monkey wrenches into the machinery. They got their start over in England by stowing away in Royal Air Force bombers, drinking up the gasoline, sticking pins in the pilots, and raising hob generally.

Now they're operating on the home front. When you're tempted to make an extravagant purchase instead of buying a war bond, you may be sure that it's a Gremlin whispering in your ear. When you slip on the ice, miss your street car and are late for work—the Gremlins did it.

And just to show you how these little rascals work, we're starting a brand-new comic feature on Monday. It's called THE GREMLINS. Watch for it and follow it every day. It will give you lots of laughs.

Service Club
Hears Talk
On Red Cross

Business of the Warren Kiwanis Club, at its last regular meeting of the year in the dining room of the Carver Hotel yesterday, was confined to the naming of committees for the coming year. Dr. T. E. Colley, president-elect, introduced as the speaker, Miss Helen Lauffenburger, Home Service Secretary of the American Red Cross in an able and interesting discussion of that organization's problems in handling the many personal and family problems of our boys in the armed services. Miss Lauffenburger related many humorous and pathetic instances in which the Red Cross had been of invaluable service to the military and naval authorities in dealing with physical and social problems of the men in camp and abroad, and in maintaining contact of those men with their families.

A warm welcome was extended to S. M. (Monty) McClure recently discharged honorably from military service.

It was announced that induction of newly elected officers will take place next week.

Sports News

'Y' LEAGUE SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Close Scores Anticipated In Bowl Games Scheduled Friday

At Pasadena

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 31—(P)—The Georgia-UCLA football skirmish tomorrow isn't one of the most exciting in the hallowed history of the Rose Bowl 93,000 persons will feel they have been misled.

Coaches, players and the sideline observers are agreed it shapes up as a battle of powerful attacks. There is strong likelihood the game will turn into a free-scoring affair and those inclined to view it as such also regard Georgia as the winner.

Players of both teams, engaging only in light drills, expressed confidence in the outcome. The Georgians said they looked for a hard battle.

At Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 31—(P)—"I hope the score is 60 to 59—with Boston College winning."

The guy behind the quotes is Denny Myers, bluff coach of the E. C. Eagles—and the party on the short end of the score would be the University of Alabama, which B. C. meets in Miami's Orange Bowl tomorrow afternoon.

"Sure," he continues. "I look for a free-scoring game, and I hope we kick those extra points."

Myers isn't the only one looking for a close game. Miami bookmakers, who always come out with a profit margin offered odds of 5 to 6, and take your choice.

Boston College earlier was a 7 to 5 favorite, but a last-minute influx of Alabama money forced down the odds to an equivalent of even money. Bettors must risk $6 to make $5 if the team of their choice wins the ball game.

League bowling will be resumed at the Elk alleys Sunday when the New Process will meet Warren Tank on 1-2 while South Side Market and Soda Mineral will clash on 3-4. Schedule for the remainder of the week follows:

Monday—Garcinos vs. Rasmussen; National Transit vs. Turner Radio.

Wednesday—Maders vs. Style Shop; Texas Lunch vs. Times-Mirror.

Thursday—Harvey-Carey vs. Kirbergs; DeLuxe vs. Lewis Market.

Friday—Penn Furnace vs. Irvine; Times Square vs. Simonsens.

The rosters of the various league teams is also announced as follows:

O'Connors—Farnsworth, C.; Fitch, R.; Gustafson, R.; Hee, J.; McAvoy, J.; Otto, N.; Sanford, T.; Steffan, M.; Yusco, J.

Struthers—Shanshala, W.; Bonavita, J.; Bonavita, T.; Bjers, W.; Steincamp, P.; Lytle, J.; Caldwell, R.; Chase, R.; Johnson, C.; Hoffman, D.

Rocks—Berdine, K.; Jewel, R.; Carlson, H.; Creola, N.; Samuelson, G.; Johnson, R.; Praiz, T.; Pawk, J.; Lawton, F.

Blomquist—Pick, J.; Lundquist, R.; Sharp, D.; Wright, W.; Blech, M.; Joy, G.; Lindquist, R.; Urban, J.

LAKEAWANNA county reported all rivers falling with temperatures below freezing.

Wide stretches of lowlands were flooded in eastern Pennsylvania and householders had to be evacuated in some communities. Rivers generally were believed cresting throughout the area.

The north branch of the raging Susquehanna reached a stand in the New York headwaters and was falling as fast down as Towanda where it crested at 23 feet, seven above flood level. Headwaters of the West Branch crested at 11.1 at Cressfield, nearly a foot above flood stage.

Stewart said Williamsport and Sunbury were not entirely out of danger.

Herbert A. Tait, 49, instructor in the flood threatened Williamsport technical institute, died of a heart attack after hours of labor clearing the school basement of precision tools.

The river swelled to 17.1 feet one above flood level, at Sunbury with a crest of 19 forecast. Wilkes-Barre recorded a stage of 27.4 with the local flood control office predicting 30 feet probably in 24 hours. Narrows road between Kingston and Plymouth was ordered closed as water crept over the highway.

The bodies were taken to Roundup, and will be sent with military escorts, to their homes.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Ottman of Roundup visited the crash scene as the wreckage still blazed. He reported two bodies had been cleared of the plane and the others lay inside the wreckage. Others who visited the scene said the big plane had all but cleared a slope.

Contrary to public opinion, the United States has an extensive cargo plane building program.

An official prediction says that late in the year three cargo planes will be built for every 10 long-range bombers.

Thousands of damaged propeller blades were returned from war zones for reconditioning and repair. About four out of five received are repairable.

NORTH WARREN: This home is located in nice residential section. Very large lot. House has six rooms, bath, gas, electricity, new coal furnace, own water system. Immediate possession. Price $3,000.

Newspaper Tonnage Cut

Washington, Dec. 31—(P)—The War Production Board today ordered every newspaper's use of print paper in 1943 cut back to this morning following a short illness. The widow of James Alexander, she was born in Forfarshire, Scotland, May 22, 1867. She was a faithful member of the First Methodist church.

Surviving are three daughters, Margaret, Blanche and Eunice, all at home; one son, William G., in San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. William Spinnier and Mrs. David Alexander, also two granddaughters.

Friends may call at the family home and funeral services will be held from there at 4 p. m. Saturday, conducted by Dr. T. E. Colley and followed by interment in Oakland cemetery.

Simultaneously WPB ordered magazines limited to 90 percent of the tonnage used by each publisher in 1942, declaring this would have the same curtailment effect as the newspaper order.

Chandler said he could only hope that the newly ordered controls, effective January 1, would last for the first quarter of 1943.

Designed for laughter and entertainment only, RKO Radio's "Here We Go Again," unites for the second time those two famous radio duos, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy and Fibber McGee and Molly in the starring roles of a feature film.

To these popular fun-makers are added Harold Peary, known to millions as "The Great Gildersleeve"; Ginny Simms, golden-voiced song bird of pictures and the airways; Ray Noble and his orchestra; Bill Thompson, noted dialect and character comedian of the Fibber McGee and Molly radio program, and Mortimer Snerd, another of the popular Edgar Bergen ventriloquial creations. All these characters play themselves in the picture, which is laid at an outdoor mountain resort, and each contributes his own particular brand of hilarious comedy.

London, Dec. 31—(P)—Johnnes Marinus Drunks, a Dutch subject who was brought to England last May after being "rescued" from the English Channel, was executed today as a German secret agent seeking information on American and Canadian troops in England, an official report said.

For some years Mr. Connors had made his home with his son in Warren and another son, John W., in Washington. Also surviving is a third son, James E., of Canton, O.; four sisters, Mrs. Felix Spala, Mrs. John Dolan and Mrs. Delia Armstrong, New York City; and Miss Ann Connors, Tunbridge Wells, Kent, England.

Three daughters and her husband preceded her in death. Her youngest daughter, Bertha, was supervisor of music in the Warren schools, making her name with her sister, Mrs. Barr, at Grace Methodist parsonage. One brother, George W. Shreve, of Okmulgee, Okla., and two nieces, Mrs. Nellie Young, of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Mrs. Arthur Turner, in Kansas, with a nephew, C. C. Shreve, of Allen, Okla., also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Barr. Rev. H. L. Knappberger assisted by Dr. J. H. Clemens and Dr. T. E. Colley, will be in charge. Interment will be in the family plot at Degolia, McKean county.

J. W. CALDEN

Services in memory of J. W. Calden, prominent Tidioute resident who died suddenly December 25, were held from the Sage funeral home there at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Lloyd Crosby. Interment was in the Tidioute cemetery. Bearers were Dr. G. B. Chase, Charles Gesin, Elmer Petersen, Lyman Magill, Leonard Snyder and Frank Tipton.

Mr. Calden had been a life-long resident of Tidioute, where he was in business for many years. He was a member of the borough council and was local constable at the time of his death. He leaves a host of friends and is greatly missed by all.

He was preceded in death by his wife Ella and a son Ralph who passed away in 1934, and a daughter Ella who died in 1927. He is survived by two sons, John Jr., Washington, D. C., and Lieut. Adam Calden, U. S. Navy. Three grandchildren also survive, Betty Lovejoy, Madison, Wis., Lucy Calden, New York City, and Ralph Calden, Washington, D. C.

Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Spencer Reno; Mrs. Mary Wallington, E. Wallington, Miss Jane
